This is not meant to be a complete list of eligible products, as others may be available. Please check at your local home improvement center (e.g. Lowes or Home Depot); or a specialty irrigation supply house (e.g. Castle Rock Rental and Repair, Ewing Irrigation Products, or Denver Brass and Copper).

The rotary nozzle retrofit rebate program specifically targets the replacement of less efficient traditional fixed spray nozzles with more efficient rotary nozzles. In most cases, the retrofit can be accomplished by simply removing the old fixed spray nozzle and replacing with the new rotary nozzle. Generally, replacement of the entire sprinkler head is not necessary. Although less common, some spray nozzles are integrated into the head, in which case, the entire sprinkler head will need to be replaced. This rebate does not cover the installation of new sprinkler systems or the replacement of existing rotor heads or rotary nozzles.

These water conserving nozzles are recommended in conjunction with a 6-inch pop-up height sprinkler head for turf areas and 12-inch pop-up height for native and/or perennial areas.

To take advantage of the rebate residential participants must also complete a Water Wiser Workshop and meet all program requirements. The workshop covers Castle Rock's water supply, water system, efficient irrigation methods and fundamentals of water conservation with a focus on landscaping practices. Contact 720-733-6017 or visit www.CRgov.com/waterwiser, for class information.

This is a one-time rebate per service location. For complete program details, please see the application form.

Don't wait too long to take advantage of this program. Rebate funds are limited and available on a first-come, first served basis. Contact 720-733-6017 for more information. Funding of your rebate is not guaranteed until you receive your Rebate Confirmation Notice. Expect rebates within three to six weeks of receiving a Rebate Conformation Notice.
